Love is in the Detail.....

Steve and Margi went completely “tropo” when they re-affirmed their love and commitment to each other..... beach, Hawaiian music.....

Where do we start?

The first thing we need to do is get together, obligation free, to discuss your ceremony, and of course, to give you the opportunity to meet “me”.

The basic steps to create your ceremony are outlined below and, you will notice, the ceremony is all about your choices.....

- The Introduction
- The “Giving Away
- Your Vows
- Exchange of rings (or symbols)
- Declaration of Marriage
- A Ceremony Ritual if desired (there are many – from simple to complex)
- Readings/Poems or Songs (these can be added at chosen points within the ceremony)
- Signing of Re-Affirmation Certificate (with 2 witnesses)
- Presentation to guests

There is a vast selection of choices. Your ceremony is based on these choices and once your ceremony is completed, you’ll receive a “Ceremony Checklist” for approval and signature.

Ken & Patricia chose a quiet home ceremony to re-affirm their love and commitment – although with the abundance of children, grandchildren and extended family, quiet is probably not the word to use.....

My Fee – whatever your choice of ceremony style – simple or a ceremony with all the extra's; traditional or contemporary; irrespective of size – I understand everyone's wishes differ and each ceremony is created to reflect the unique journey you have travelled and the souvenirs of your hearts so far; and your personal dream as to how you promise your re-commitment to each other to celebrate your future together.
